Huga

Huga is a collection of bar stools that combines comfort, functionality, and aesthetics. Designed for spaces where everyday life is in constant change, Huga is inspired by movement, flexibility and dynamism. The collection captivates with its form, which conceals meticulously crafted and practical details. Each element serves a purpose, allowing Huga to adapt to the needs of users and provide comfort in any situation.

The metal frame supports the seat and features side handles that intuitively assist users when sitting down and getting up from the stool. This design ensures stability and a sense of security while facilitating easy position changes during use. The handles also serve a secondary function, enabling effortless mobility, making Huga an ideal choice for dynamic environments. Additionally, the crossbar surrounding the stool provides comfortable leg support.

Huga stools are available in two versions — one with an upholstered seat and another with an elegant veneered finish. Thanks to their versatility, Huga seamlessly integrates into a variety of interiors, from vibrant cafes and modern restaurants to sophisticated hotel lobbies and dynamic coworking spaces.

Key features

- Intuitive handles and mobility – the side handles integrated into the frame of the Huga barstool provide stability when sitting down and standing up, as well as making it easy to move the furniture, making it ideal for dynamic, multifunctional spaces.
- Versatility and comfort – available in upholstered or veneered seat versions, along with a footrest for added leg support, Huga is perfect for hotels, restaurants, and coworking spaces, offering both style and comfort.
