Plus

The Plus sofas are a response to the needs of modern office spaces, where comfort, privacy, and acoustic comfort are essential. The sofas and armchairs in this line are designed for users who value functionality while expecting coziness and tranquility in the workplace.

Sofas feature furniture for both single and double occupancy, with options to choose between a low backrest and a high upholstered partition that offers exceptional comfort and enhances the sense of privacy. This makes it an ideal solution for meeting areas as well as relaxation spaces, where users can detach from the hustle and bustle of the office and focus on brief rejuvenation.

One unique element of the collection is the partition that attaches to the sides of the sofa, further enhancing the sense of isolation and creating a more conducive atmosphere for conversations or relaxation. The upholstered finish adds elegance to the furniture and provides acoustic comfort, allowing for more effective work in open space environments.

A convenient additional feature is the rotating tabletop, which can be mounted anywhere along the edge of the seat. Its design allows for comfortable sitting, and when rotated, it can be used as a practical surface for a cup of coffee or even a laptop.

With a variety of dimensions and configuration options, the Plus collection offers flexible solutions tailored to any office—whether in shared spaces or relaxation zones.

Key features

- High level of privacy and acoustic comfort – with high, upholstered panels and optional side screens, the Plus collection provides excellent acoustic insulation, perfect for private conversations or moments of relaxation in the office.
- Flexible configurations – the collection offers a wide range of armchairs and sofas in various sizes, available for one or two people, allowing it to be adapted to the specific needs of office spaces.
- Functionality and elegance combined – fully upholstered, these pieces not only bring an elegant appearance but also enhance comfort, making them an ideal solution for both meeting areas and relaxation zones.
